Lead Free – elson PRESS:

It's official that for some time now our DR Brass, elson PRESS – copper tube PRESS fittings are all “Lead Free”. Recent and ongoing media reports relating to health issues with potable water supply at Perth Children's Hospital have highlighted the issue of choosing your Supplier and Product Brand carefully. Price is always important however as the installer, it's ultimately your responsibility to install quality products that comply with or exceed the required Standards and your client's expectations. Not taking this due diligence procedure can result in expensive remediation or perhaps worse, legal action. What better opportunity to separate yourself from the opposition by installing elson PRESS Lead Free products with complete confidence. Elson manufacturing has taken a quantum leap with “lead free” technology. Consistent quality manufacturing is ensured with elson PRESS Brass fittings. Don't risk a potential health issue, insist on using only elson PRESS “Lead Free” fittings.
